The Working Horse Society have decided to bring you some of the best prep people in WA. This clinic is to help anyone who struggles with prep or the person who is new to it doesn't know how to.

The working horse society wants you to all become the best at what you love & know. This clinic is open to any equine lover with which ever breed colour shape or size. Even if you don't have a horse but you are interested, you are more than welcome.
